

eNOTIFY

What is eNotify?

eNotify scans your database in search of discrepancies and changes. When a discrepancy or change is identified, it sends an alert via text or email to the manager assigned to that employee or job.

eNotify:

- Eliminates the need to use reports, manual emails, to-do lists
- Provides advance warning of potential problems

Maintain Constant Contact

MITC allows organizations to exploit the universal use of mobile phones to give employees and managers an instant connection to key work information such as shifts, work instructions and training, any time and any place.

Get instant access to all aspects of your working life, using mobile devices. Time and attendance, scheduling, personnel and training information is delivered to Android™, iPhone®, BlackBerry®, and iPad® tablet or any other smartphone device.

Technology that Exploits the Universal Use of Mobile Devices

- Remind employees of their next shift
- Include work instructions, tips and advice
- Send training alerts
- Build other automatic reminders into your employees' communication system
- Communicate with remote employees instantly and automatically, any time and any where

Send Email or Text Alerts

Quick and automatic alerts are ideal for remote employees, employees whose schedules change frequently, or busy managers who would benefit from "heads-up" alerts of potential problems.

Use with Employees and Managers

Employees

- Improve time management by prompting employees through email or text messages with schedule information and short work instructions in advance of their shifts
- Alert employees to training requirements, license expirations or upcoming reviews
- Improve morale with Happy Birthday and Happy Anniversary messages

Managers

- Overtime
- Employee missing clock-in/out
- Immigration document, license, training certification expiring
- Job hours of service over or under budget
- Generate email alerts based on queries and date-sensitive information relating to time and attendance, schedules, budget variances or human resource records
- Get control of problems before they become cost and budget overruns
